FOREVER IN OUR HEARTS

Led by Dr. David Schonfeld of the National Center for School Crisis and Bereavement, a pediatrician and an expert in school crisis and bereavement, the Coalition to Support Grieving Students has created and endorsed a set of materials, including a comprehensive website, to help school personnel and the entire school community provide guidance to bereaved students. PLEASE WATCH THIS 90 SECOND VIDEO that explains the mission and work of the Coalition.

The New York Life Foundation is offering free resources and materials to teachers and school-based staff to support grieving students. Schools are also eligible for a $500 grant to become a Grief-Sensitive School. More than 11 BCPS schools have already successfully participated in the program. CLICK HERE to express interest in participating.

Grant Development Process and How GAGP Can Help You

A copy of all grant applications to external agencies must be submitted to the Grants Administration & Government Programs (GAGP) Department as soon as possible to obtain School Board approval. Grant contracts and funds will not be awarded without Board approval. A copy may be submitted via e-mail to grants@browardschools.com or via pony mail to GAGP the 4th Floor of the K.C. Wright Administrative Building. All grant applications MUST support the District's Strategic Plan Goals of High Quality Instruction, Continuous Improvement and Effective Communication and align to District Priority Initiatives.

Good News!

South Plantation High Receives American Theatre Wing Andrew Lloyd Webber Initiative Grant

South Plantation High School was awarded a $5,320 grant for foldable mirrors that will be used by students in dance, theater and Deaf and Hard of Hearing programs. Productions at South Plantation High are interpreted in American Sign Language by actors on the stage. This grant will provide for glassless mirrors that will improve the ability to interpret the performance into American Sign Language.

JetBlue Helps Students at BCPS Soar

JetBlue Foundation is supporting the District's Turnaround Arts Program with 21 airline vouchers to send students and chaperones to the Turnaround Arts Kennedy Center Talent show on March 11, 2018. Students will be performing a song from "Annie" with their artist mezzo soprano opera singer Carla Canales. Also, through the generous support of JetBlue 2017-18, students at Liberty Elementary School learned important sports and life skills through the Hockey Scholar Program; 40 students participated in the Annual Autism flight; 100,000 children's books were given away; and students District-wide will compete in the Computer Science (STEM+CS) Olympiad. JetBlue does an annual book drive for the Broward Reads Initiative. JetBlue was also present at the Family Assistance Centers for Parkland and gave out free tickets to families in need, including tickets for families to fly and see extended family members and grandmothers to fly in to comfort grandchildren. Thank you, JetBlue, for being a valued partner.

Broward Education Foundation Hosts its Annual Teacher Expo

The Idea Expo was a great success with over 450 teachers and guests from Broward County Schools attending. GAGP took part by holding a Professional Development Session on grant writing in which close to 30 educators learned about the fundamentals of grant writing and received the BCPS School-Based grant writing tool kit. Thank you to Eileen Santiago, Professor of Reading – Broward College Teacher Education Program for sharing her positive experience writing and winning a grants for her BCPS students.

Grants in Action

Grants are a powerful tool to enhance teaching and learning throughout our District. Please take the opportunity to have your grants showcased in one of our upcoming newsletters by submitting your photos with the subject line Grants In Action, and email your action photographs of activities associated with grant awards to grants@browardschools.com. This is another opportunity to acknowledge our grant donors for their support and to showcase the innovative learning experiences developed by our school based staff!

Grants in the Spotlight

Congratulations to Larry Bremner, Teacher – Westglades Middle School for receiving sports equipment valued at $5,500 from DICK’S Sporting Goods Foundation through DonorsChoose.org. Mr. Bremner explained in his proposal that “Hurricane Irma downed many trees, destroyed large areas of playing fields, and caused rain damage to the ceiling of the locker room where team sports equipment was stored, damaging it beyond repair and required replacement during the recovery process.” Mr. Bremner’s grant writing efforts resulted in a donation of materials to deal with existing damage and allow staff to proactively respond to weather issues daily. The donation included: indoor and outdoor storage with weather-resistant material to protect equipment; tools to deal with some of the areas of the fields that are still in poor condition; and radios equipped with weather alerts to notify coaches of weather warnings to maintain a safe environment for all participants.

How many grants have you been awarded? 5-7 awarded

What makes a good grant relationship?

- Getting partners excited about supporting innovation. Our partner, Broward House, got committed to 18+ population after learning about school-based prevention work through conversations with the program team.
- Donor adaptability is key. SmartRIDE is a great partner because they offer the most flexibility. We can use their funding to fill in gaps not covered by other funding sources. This way we can adapt as needs arise. For example, we asked SmartRIDE for funding to host parent workshops that were poorly attended. In collaboration with the funder, we changed the mechanism to a video series that will be available on our website (16 topics - forthcoming on BrowardPrevention.Org and social media by summer 2018).

What is your process for filling out a grant application?

Conduct a needs assessment first. Based on the needs of our department and our community we look for grants that will meet our additional needs. We also seek different funders to cover different portions of a project due to grant restrictions or funding caps. It is important to leverage scarce resources and supplement the need!

Have you discovered certain tips about grant writing that have proved successful?

- We apply for anything that is available in our focus area.
- Establish relationships in the community. New funding opportunities are shared in newsletters, listservs, and personal recommendations.
- Prior to these relationships, some current partners never considered working with the School District or focusing on young people.
- Community meetings are the bread and butter for building relationships.
- Constantly seek out grant funding to enhance programs. It is key to block out time to write or you will forget/get distracted.

Overall Advice: Write a grant. If you get it, you could change a life. You have to take the risk in order to win something at some point. It's worth the perseverance and effort.

Catch The Excitement!

"Thank you so much for your attention and support!" Charmain Sutherland, Instructional Facilitator - Applied Learning

"You are the best...I really do greatly appreciate your help." Lindsey Agoglia, Teacher – South Plantation High School

"This is such good news. I can't thank you enough!" Mae Young, Teacher – Annabel C. Perry Elementary School

"Wow! Thank you for all the feedback." L. Nicole Wilson, Magnet Coordinator - Blanche Ely High School

"Thank you SO MUCH! Seriously a life saver!" Esther Brunart, Teacher – J.P. Taravella High School

Upcoming Grant Writing Workshops

Upcoming Grant Writing Capacity Building and Proposal Development Workshops

GAGP staff offers a capacity building workshop on: grant writing; the elements of program development; and the joint identification of program funding needs and opportunities.

Teacher Grants Space: Join BCPS teachers and GAGP staff to network and exchange program ideas; learn about upcoming grant opportunities; view sample proposals; find a quiet space to write proposals; and get real-time feedback and input on your proposals. CLICK HERE TO EXPRESS INTEREST.

Tip for the Day

TIP for the Day: Tips for Effective Writing

The District's Marketing & Communications team has published several resources aimed at building our communication skills. Check out their SharePoint site here. Below are great tips found in their Plain Language Guide:

Identify your audience - Think about why the reader needs to read the document. Also, identify the people interested in the document, even if they are not directly affected. Write for everyone who is interested, not just technical or legal experts.

Keep it short! You will communicate more clearly if you keep sentences and sections short. Aim for an average sentence length of 20 words, with no one sentence running over 40 words. Cover only one subject in each paragraph and keep paragraphs under 10 or 12 lines.

Be positive - When you can turn a negative statement into a positive one without changing the meaning of it, do it. You'll save readers from unnecessary mental work. Using more than one negative muddles the meaning of a document. Accentuate the positive when you can.

Write in active voice - Voice is the form a verb takes to show if its subject acts or is acted upon. When the subject of a verb does something (acts), the verb is in the active voice. When the subject of a verb receives the action (is acted upon), the verb is in the passive voice.

Short titles instead of acronyms - Acronyms (abbreviations of phrases or names) can make a document confusing and hard to read; use only those known to the reader. Define the acronym when first used and then frequently enough so your reader doesn't forget. Short titles or one-word descriptions should be used in most cases.

Reduce wordiness - Omit needless words. Excess words weaken your writing. Make your sentences short, direct and clear.

Opportunity Spotlight

Lowe's Toolbox for Education Grants each year, the Lowe's Toolbox for Education grants program contributes more than $5 million to fund improvements at public schools in the United States. Projects should fall into one of the following categories: technology upgrades, tools for STEM programs, facility renovations and safety improvements. Toolbox grant requests can range from $2,000 to $100,000. Fall funding cycle: August 6, 2018 – September 28, 2018
